Tyler is a representational abstract painter and sculptor from Southern Ontario, Canada.

His art connects most solidly to the genre of Spirit Art where inspiration comes through intuition, meditation and dream practices. Spirit Artist is also an apt term for Tyler's work as an entertainer, speaker and educator.

Tyler's artistic landscape found its mark after he outwardly identified as gay in 2015. This removed creative blocks, contracted creativity and self-censorship.

In 2016, Tyler made it among fifteen of 1500 artist applicants to be recognized by CBC's reality series called Crash Gallery. Since that time, Tyler's work has caught the attention of art residencies in Sioux Narrows, Ontario (2017), Kenora, Ontario (2018) and Marrakesh, Morocco (2019) where Tyler was invited to stay as an artist in residence with an open invitation to return to each.

Tyler works out of his home studio participating in a variety of solo exhibitions and group shows.
